Part XII – Supervision of Legal Assistants

Definition

12.01 For the purposes of this Rule, the term “legal assistant” shall include any person who is not a member or student who performs work associated with the provision of legal services under the general supervision of a member, whether as an employee of the member or of a firm, professional law corporation or enterprise in which the member is associated or employed, or as an independent contractor, or as a trainee, or otherwise.

(Amended: Rule 12.01, Summer Term Convocation June 10, 2005)

Matters Requiring Professional Skill and Judgement

12.02 A member shall ensure that all matters requiring a lawyer’s professional skill and judgement are dealt with by a member and that legal advice is not given by unauthorized persons, whether in the member’s name or otherwise.

Legal Assistants

12.03 Subject to the general and specific restrictions set out below, a legal assistant may perform any task delegated and supervised by a member so long as the member maintains a direct relationship with the client and assumes full professional responsibility for the work. Legal assistants shall not perform any of the duties that lawyers only may perform, or do things that lawyers themselves may not do. Generally speaking, the question of what a member may delegate to a legal assistant turns on the distinction between the special knowledge of the legal assistant and the professional legal judgement of the member, which must be exercised whenever it is required.

12.04 Except where the following may be specifically permitted by statute, a member may not permit the legal assistant to:

(a) give legal advice;

(b) give or receive undertakings;

(c) examine or cross-examine any party in an action, by way of discovery or otherwise;

(d) act without reference to the member in matters involving professional legal judgement;

(e) appear in a court or before a tribunal or participate in judicial or quasi-judicial proceedings on behalf of a client except in a support role to the member appearing in such proceedings;

(f) be held out as a member, or be identified other than as a legal assistant when communicating, whether orally or in writing with clients, lawyers, public officials or with the public generally; or

(g) be named in any manner other than as a legal assistant on the letterhead of a member's stationery or in any sign, announcement or listing in any directory or advertisement used or published by the member, or in association with the member in any pleadings, written argument or other like document submitted to a court or tribunal.

12.05 A member shall ensure that a legal assistant, when dealing directly with clients, lawyers, public officials or with the public generally, shall disclose that he or she is not a member.

12.06 Except as may be specifically permitted by statute, a legal assistant is permitted to act only under the direction and supervision of a member. Adequacy of direction and supervision will depend on the type of legal matter, including the degree of standardization and repetitiveness of the matter, and the experience of the legal assistant both generally and with regard to the particular matter. The burden rests on the member to instruct the legal assistant with respect to the duties to which the legal assistant may be assigned, and then to supervise the manner in which the legal assistant carries out such duties. The member shall monitor and inject judgement in the process of the legal assistant's work as it is performed at sufficiently frequent intervals to ensure that it is proceeding correctly and in a timely fashion for delivery to the client.

12.07 For the purpose of specific areas of practise, it is easier to define the function of legal assistants affirmatively:

(a) Real Estate

The member may permit the legal assistant to attend to matters of routine administration in a transaction relating to the sale, option, lease or mortgaging of land, and to conduct routine correspondence and draft documents and other correspondence including closing documents and statements of accounts, provided that the member attends on the client to advise and take instructions on all substantive matters, reviews title search reports, conducts all negotiations with third parties or their lawyers, reviews documents before signing, attends on the client to review documents, and reviews and signs title opinions.

(b) Corporate and Commercial

The member may permit the legal assistant to attend to matters of routine administration and to draft documentation and correspondence relating to corporate proceedings and corporate records, security instruments and contracts, including closing documents and statements of account, provided that the member attends on the client to advise and take instructions on all substantive matters, conducts all negotiations with third parties or their lawyers and reviews and signs all written material prepared by the legal assistant before it leaves the member's office other than documents and correspondence relating to routine administration.

(c) Wills, trusts and estates

The member may permit the legal assistant to collect information, draft documents including wills and trust instruments, prepare any applicable income tax, succession duty and estate tax returns, calculate such taxes and duties, draft executors' accounts and statements of account, and attend to filings and conduct routine correspondence, provided that the member attends on the client to advise and take instructions on all substantive matters, conducts all negotiations with third parties or their lawyers, attends at any hearing before the court or registrar and reviews and signs all material prepared by the legal assistant before it leaves the member's office, other than documents and correspondence relating to routine administration.

(d) Litigation

The member may permit the legal assistant to collect information, interview witnesses, prepare draft pleadings, correspondence and other documentation, research legal questions, prepare memoranda, organize documents, prepare briefs, draft statements of account and attend to filings and other matters of an administrative nature, provided that the member attends on the client to advise and take instructions on all substantive issues, conducts all negotiations with third parties or their lawyers (except where the client consents, negotiations of routine debt collection claims other than in tort may be conducted by the legal assistant and communicated directly by the legal assistant to the client if prior to settlement such are reviewed by the member), and reviews and signs all written material prepared by the legal assistant before it leaves the member's office, other than documents and correspondence relating to routine administration. The legal assistant shall not attend at any examination for discovery of the client or attend in court or before a registrar or before any administrative tribunal, except in support of a member also in attendance.

12.08 Benchers may treat a member's failure to comply with this Part as professional misconduct.

(5) Where a member in relation to whom an application is filed confirms the misappropriation or conversion, the time before the date of that confirmation shall not count when determining the limitation period for a person having the benefit of the confirmation against the person bound by that confirmation.

(6) Subsection (5) applies only where the confirmation is given before the expiration of the limitation period for making an application for compensation from the Assurance Fund.

(7) Notwithstanding a postponement or suspension of the running of time under subsections (2), (3), (4), (5) and (6), no application to which this Rule applies shall be brought after the expiration of 10 years from the date on which the event which gave rise to the application last occurred.

(b) determine that no payment shall be made.

(2) In deciding the amount of compensation, if any, payable from the fund under rule 13.06(1) benchers shall have regard to all relevant factors, including the following:

Part XVIII Witnessing, Commissioning and Notarizing Documents via Audio-Visual Technology

Definitions

18.01 The following definitions are applicable to this Rule and its related Forms:

“member” means a lawyer as defined in the Commissioners for Oaths Act, Notaries Public Act, Registration of Deeds Act, 2009 and the Wills Act.

Requirements

18.02 A member must not witness, commission or notarize a document via audio-visual technology under the Commissioners for Oaths Act, Notaries Public Act, Registration of Deeds Act, 2009 and the Wills Act unless the member:

- a) complies with the applicable legislation and this rule; and
- b) has professional liability insurance that covers witnessing, commissioning or notarizing that document or is eligible to be indemnified by the member’s employer for witnessing, commissioning or notarizing that document.

18.03 When witnessing, commissioning or notarizing a document via audio-visual technology, members must comply with the requirements in Rule 16 as well as confirm the signatory’s identity by:

- a) requiring that the signatory display government-issued photo identification;
- b) ensuring that the government-issued identification is valid, authentic and current;
- c) comparing the image on the government-issued photo identification with the signatory to be reasonably satisfied that it is the same person;
- d) obtaining a screen capture or a photo of their screen showing the face of the signatory alongside the signatory’s government-issued photo identification;
- e) treating the interaction as a high-risk interaction and monitoring the situation accordingly; and
- f) recording the date and the details of how the signatory’s identity was confirmed.

18.04 Notwithstanding Rule 18.03, where:

- a) a signatory does not have government-issued photo identification that is valid and current but the signatory is known to the member; and
- b) the matter does not involve any of the following:
 - i) the receiving, paying or transferring of funds as outlined in Rule 16.04;
 - ii) the witnessing of a will; or
 - iii) the witnessing, notarizing or commissioning of a document under the Registration of Deeds Act, 2009, a member may confirm the signatory's identity for the purpose of witnessing, commissioning or notarizing a document via audio-visual technology by:

- c) complying with Rule 16.06(6)(a)(ii) or Rule 16.06(6)(a)(iii); and
- d) executing an affidavit outlining:
 - i) the member's belief that the signatory does not have government-issued photo identification that is valid and current and the reasons for that belief;
 - ii) the particulars of how the signatory is known to the member;
 - iii) the reasons for the member's belief that the signatory is who they claim to be; and
 - iv) the particulars of the matter.

Mitigating the Risks

18.05 Before witnessing, commissioning or notarizing a document via audio-visual technology, members must take the following steps:

- a) consider whether there are red flags of fraud associated with the matter;
- b) assess whether there is a risk that the signatory may be subject to undue influence or duress, including observing who else is physically in the room with the signatory during execution of documents;
- c) confirm the signatory's understanding of the documents they are executing and provide adequate opportunity for them to ask questions before they execute the document; and
- d) take any other measures to mitigate the risks associated with fraud, identify theft, undue influence, duress and potential lack of capacity that are reasonable in the circumstances.

18.06 Members must decline to act where they are unable to take the steps to mitigate the risks found in Rule 18.05.

Recording Requirements

18.07 Members must concurrently prepare a written record detailing how the risks outlined in Rule 18.05 were mitigated by completing Law Society Form 18: Witnessing, Commissioning and Notarizing Documents via Audio-Visual Technology. A copy of the screen capture or photo of the screen required under Rule 18.03(d) or the affidavit outlined in Rule 18.04(d) must be appended to the Form.

18.08 Members must:

- a) maintain the original Form in the client's file where the signatory is a client and in a central location where the signatory is not a client; and
- b) provide the signatory with a copy of the Form.

Additional Requirements for Witnessing a Will

18.09 In addition to the other requirements outlined in this Rule, members witnessing a will via audio-visual technology must:

- a) upon receipt of an original signed but unwitnessed, or partially witnessed, will from a testator, and before signing as a witness, complete a line-by-line comparison of the will against the document that the member created and sent to the client to ensure that it has not been altered in transit;
- b) where the member did not draft the will and is acting as a witness only, the member shall, before signing as a witness, read the entirety of the will to the testator during the meeting via audio-visual technology to confirm the intentions of the testator;
- c) record the name of the second witness to the will and their relationship to the testator; and
- d) concurrently prepare a Proof of Will in accordance with the Rules of the Supreme Court, 1986 and amend the jurat on the Proof of Will to include the words "via audio-visual technology".

Registration of Deeds Act, 2009

18.10 For greater certainty, "executed in the province" for the purposes of section 15 of the Registration of Deeds Act, 2009, means an instrument executed by a signatory physically present in the province and witnessed by a member who, at the time of witnessing the instrument, is physically in or outside the province.

Date of Document

18.11 The date of the document is the date the document is signed by the signatory, not the date the document is signed by the member.

Coming into Effect

18.12 This Rule shall take effect on the day the Alternate Witnessing of Documents Amendment Act comes into force.
