Brief Service Interruption

Temporary Disruption to Irwin E-book Database Access

We are currently experiencing a temporary service disruption with the Irwin e-book database. We are actively working to resolve the matter as quickly as possible.

In the meantime, many of the Irwin titles are available as physical copies in the library and can be located in our catalogue. If you are unable to visit the library in person, please contact staff to request a scan of specific sections of the content.

Thank you for your patience.
